

BIO TERRIE TEMKIN

Dr. Terrie Temkin has been working with, and training others to work with, “difficult people” most of her long career. Her degrees in interpersonal and organizational communication, as well as adult education, and her experience with personality testing, have proven valuable to her as a manager, national trainer, adjunct professor, and consultant.

Terrie is a founding principal of CoreStrategies for Nonprofits, Inc., an international consulting firm that fully integrates governance, planning, fund development, PR, marketing and public policy with the “human side” of business. An award-winning speaker and an engaging group facilitator, she is an acknowledged thought leader in the areas of governance and board development.

For more than 20 years Terrie has authored “On Nonprofits,” an advice column that frequently deals with “people issues” and ran in the Miami Herald for five years. She has written five books, has chapters in five others, and has presented numerous papers. Her articles are found in the leading nonprofit-oriented publications worldwide.

Terrie is on the editorial advisory panels for Nonprofit Business Advisor, Nonprofit World, and Nonprofit Education and Leadership, as well as a frequent peer reviewer of governance and nonprofit management books.

In her “spare time,” she is an adjunct faculty member in Florida Atlantic University’s graduate program in Nonprofit Management, and an active volunteer. She is currently a committed member of the Dean’s Advisory Council for the Scripps College of Communication at Ohio University. She is active with the national capacity-building organization, the Alliance for Nonprofit Management. On a lighter note, she is a Carbonell nominator. The Carbonell Awards are Southeast Florida’s version of the Tony Awards for excellence in theater.
